DETAILED ACTION

Receipt is acknowledged of the RCE filed on July 17, 2003.

Claims 2-3, 5-6, 8, and 16-18 were canceled.

Claims 9-15 were withdrawn from further consideration.

Claims 1, 4, and 7 are presented for examination.

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on July 17, 2003 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 4, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Asada's 5,018,276.

With reference to Fig. 1, Asada disclosed the claimed invention including: a) a rim type cutting tip comprising of a plurality of tooth portions 7. Please note that by definition, rim means outer, circular part of a wheel. Thus, tooth portion 7 is a rim of wheel body 6; b) diamond layers 8 longitudinally disposed parallel with the rotation direction of wheel body 6; and c) non-diamond portion 7a. Please note that the claims are directed to apparatus which must be distinguished from the prior art in term of structure rather than functions. Hence, the functional limitations of "to form microscopic ... cutting operation" and "to crush portions ... to portions" are narrative in form have not been given any patentable weight. In order to be given patentable weight, a functional recitation must be supported by recitation in the claim of sufficient structure to warrant the presence of the functional language.

Art Unit: 3723

Regarding to claims 4 and 7, the diamond particles are formed in a grid pattern or randomly distributed.

Double Patenting

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

5. Claims 1, 4, and 7 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-2 of U.S.

Patent No. 6,638,152. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the subject matter of the application claims is fully disclosed in the patent application and covered by the patented claim. The patented claims are inclusive for they are drafted using the "comprising-style" format and cover the subject matter of the application claims. Since the application has obtained the right to exclude others from making or using the subject matter set forth in the claims of this application by virtue of the patented claims, the issuance of the application into a patent without a terminal disclaimer as provided for under 37 CFR section 1.321 (b) would amount to an extension of this right.

Art Unit: 3723

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 4, and 7 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Griffin et al.'160 discloses cutting elements with wear resistant blades.
